Brief Biography:

I was born on March 21st, in Beirut, Lebanon. I graduated from Champville High school in Lebanon in 2006, followed by a year at Notre Dame University. I moved to the States in the summer of 2007 and I am currently attending Oakland University in Michigan to earn my Bachelor's of Science degree Chemistry with a minor in Business.

After earning my degree, I plan to pursue a Master's in Business Administration and work as a Pharmaceutical Retail Person.

After moving to Michigan, I had the opportunity to tutor French and Arabic at Macomb Community College. I also translated Arabic into English for the Michigan work program and assisted in English as a Second Language, (ESL) classes. In addition, I taught Chemistry for High School students.

I am currently the Vice President of Membership for the Lebanese Club of Oakland University. The diverse opportunities I had on and off campus gave me the chance to talk about Lebanon and spread its culture. I am proud to be Lebanese. I love to travel and I have been visiting Lebanon every summer since 2007.

10-11 LCN Nomination

Statement of Purpose:

I remember that day as if it was yesterday. When I first moved from my beloved country Lebanon, to come to the States, my first and most important goal was attending college. Oakland University had the priority in my choices. As I was walking through campus and discovering the beauty of the place, I was amazed by an A-frame sitting on the grass. This structure represented a grizzly bear holding in his right hand the Lebanese flag. I was so impressed and happy. Hope filled in my heart, especially knowing that Lebanon was recognized and loved by people in the area. From that moment, I decided to become a part of this club as well as every Lebanese Network in an attempt to make my country shine. I knew that raising my countries name up high would bring me great pride, and this made me want to even give more. However, I still had to find a way in which I could achieve that goal of mine. My biggest opportunity was when I actually attended Oakland University and today, I'm proudly taking the responsibilities of the "Vice President of Membership" in the Lebanese Club of Oakland University.

Since my school days, I've been greatly interested in becoming a part of several clubs. I felt that by doing so, I could contribute my community by being more productive. During High School, I enjoyed taking responsibilities, for I felt that by doing small things the right way, I could help my group develop a greater outcome. When I attended Notre Dame University (NDU) in Lebanon, I also became an active member in one of the Universities clubs. We planned for many events and I was taking part and helping in all of them.

I am looking forward to be part of the LCN Board. As a Vice President of Events, my main goal will be to ensure the success of the LCN events by helping in improving ideas and suggestions for future LCN mixers, fundraisers and dinners.
